End of the Massachusetts Contest--Butler Withdraws--Washburn Nominated by Acclamation.

WORCESTER, Mass Sept 10 —At the opening of the evening session Gen Butler said he was satisfied that the majority of the delegates were in favor of the nomination of Gov Washburn and he did not care to delay the business of the Convention by resort to parliamentary tactics He declared anew his fealty to the party and said he did not now desire to do anything to cause a dissension in its ranks. He consequently withdrew his name, saying that he saw no cause to run independently. At 7 55 Gov Washburn was nominated by acclamation

Merchants of New York Demand Cheap Transportation.

NEW YORK, Sept 10 —A mass meeting at Cooper Institute this evening in favor of cheap transportation was unusually large and important. The call for the meeting was signed by a majority of the heaviest business firms of the city Mayor Havemeyer presided. Addresses were made by a number of prominent merchants. An association, to be known as The New York Cheap Transportation Association, was formed Resolutions were adopted declaring it to be the true policy of the Government to protect the producing interests of commerce from corporations and monopolies, which tend to subvert the rights of the people, pronouncing a double-track railroad exclusively for freight absolutely necessary, and demanding a reform in the management of railroads. The frequent and arbitrary changes in freight rates are denounced, and a reform of rates demanded.

Ev[illegible] in the Stokes Case.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 —The friends of Mrs, Benton, who was arrested yesterday, as an important witness in the case of Stokes, allege that the evidence she would give would be the following She had been visiting a friend at the Grand Central Hotel. Half an hour before the commission of the murder, happening to look out of the parlor window, she saw on the opposite side of the way Mr Stokes. She beckoned to him and he crossed Broadway and entered the hotel, then came up to the parlor and conversed with her over fifteen minutes She left him in the parlor, and descending the ladies' stairway, was just out of the street door when Fisk met her They talked in front of the hotel for a few moments Fisk then entered the hotel and started up, when she heard the report of a pistol and saw a boy run out of the hotel in evident fright She went back to the ladies' entrance and had again entered the hotel when, looking up the stairway she saw two men carrying Fisk up stairs As she was going up the stairs she found on one of the steps a revolver, and from its position thought that it must have belonged to Fisk She had concealed the revolver, and had gone up stairs to her friend's room That friend had persuaded her not to reveal her finding of the pistol Since the murder she hadn't said anything to the authorities concerning Fisk's revolver, fearing it might injure the chances of Stokes' acquittal Mrs Benton's maiden name was Tinnie Wilde She was born in Lexington, Ky, in 1830 Soon after reaching womanhood she went to New Orleans, and in that city she remained 15 years. Being especially notorious during the war of 1863 she married Gen Benton, of the U S Army, who died very suddenly three months after their marriage Mrs Benton in 1865 went to Washington where she remained three years She then came to this city where she has resided since 1871

NEVADA

Euchred.

ELKO Sept 11 —Some weeks since petitions were put in circulation throughout this county calling on the Board of County Commissioners to take immediate and decisive measures to compel the Central Pacific Railroad Company to pay their just proportion of taxation and denouncing the corporation as it is now managed, as being dangerous to all American institutions political or educational!

These petitions have met with universal approbation, nine-tenths of the tax paying community having signed them Yesterday however the projectors of the movement were highly indignant at the discovery that parties interested in the company had stolen the petitions of this and other towns along the road many of which contained upwards of 100 signatures Suspicion is attached to a number of county officials holding annual passes over the road and known to be identified in furthering the interests of the company

THE PERUVIAN LAND SLIDE

Several days ago our dispatches mentioned briefly an enormous landslide which had occurred in Peru. A Lima correspondent of the Panama Star and Herald gives interesting details of the slide which occurred at Matucana Peru at [illegible] o'clock P M on July 31st. Matucana is seventy-two miles from the coast on the Oroya railroad The correspondent says

At present writing the inhabitants of Lima are in danger of a serious inundation A few days since at a town called Matucana 72 miles away on the Aroya railway a terrible land slide took place an immense mountain leaving its base with a fearful noise passing across the valley and crashing up against the opposite side forming a wall of earth rocks and debris in the bed of the river one hundred and eight feet high This obstruction is being gradually undermined by the accumulating waters and it is thought by the engineers in charge of that section of the works of the railway that on Thursday the 7th inst the torrent will have reached a greater height than the improvised barrier, and will break through,

CARRYING ALL BEFORE IT

And rushing down the fall of a mile and a half to Lima will completely cover the lower portion of the city after having inflicted incalculable damage on the estates bordering the course of the river Active steps are being taken by the authorities of the city to protect the threatened district the river walls are being strengthened and the people fully aware of the peril, are busily engaged in moving their valuables to the upper stories of their dwellings It is calculated that

TEN MILLION CUBIC YARDS OF EARTH

Were displaced by the slide and the cause is attributed to the gradual loosening of the foundation of the hill by the filtration of the mountain streams coursing down its sides. The embankment of the road is covered to the depth of one hundred feet and the land slide reached a height of three hundred feet on the opposite side of the valley

The slide took place in the valley skirted by the railway embankment about 63 miles from Lima and one mile beyond the old town of Matucana on left bank of the river Rimac, At this point

A NARROW GORGE

Intersects the valley at right angles running back at a very steep inclination until it ends in a plateau of about a mile in depth and half a mile wide surrounded by high walls of schist partly decomposed and mixed with a brownish clayey earth This table land is occupied by a number of small cultivated estates watered partly by natural springs falling over the face of the surrounding cliffs and partly by a large aqueduct six feet in width the excess of water filtering through the soil and finding an outlet in the narrow gorge leading into the river

Various small slides have previously occurred, due to the softening of the lower strata by percolation, the weight of the superincumbent mass of earth and small rock being superior to the resistance of the inclined clayey strata giving way

The appearance of the plateau seen from its outer brink 1 500 feet above the level of the Rimac, is that of the crater of an extinct volcano so high and steep are the walls of the basin in which it lies

ANOTHER ACCOUNT

Another correspondent, who visited the scene of the catastrophe says

The disaster which occurred on Thursday July 31st at 5 P M was undoubtedly the result of the softening of the soil as above mentioned At that hour a rumbling sound was heard in Matucana, and a slight vibration of the ground felt by the inhabitants This was supposed to be a slight earthquake, and many have attributed the catastrophe itself to one of those wonderful and inexplicable throes of nature They, however have confounded cause with effect The sight viewed from the opposite side of the valley must have been one of awful grandeur Unfortunately none who saw lived to tell the tale An avalanche of mud, earth and stones poured through the narrow mouths of the gorge dashed through the river bed more than a thousand feet across the valley and hurled

MILLIONS OF TONS OF MATERIAL

Up the opposite side, the earth wave reaching three hundred feet above the river bed, and then subsiding forming a solid dam across the valley apparently 1 500 feet long and as many in width I regret to say that it obliterated the mule road on the right bank overwhelming six men, one woman and a child with the animals they rode

The river above the huge obstruction thus thrown in its path began to rise at first rapidly then more slowly as it expanded laterally until it has now formed

A HUGE LAKE

From side to side of the valley gaining hourly in depth and volume At 6 P M yesterday 3d inst it was rising at the rate of 14 centimeters per hour and had reached to within 12 metres of the top of the dam The rate of rising diminished hourly but it may be assumed that by some time during Thursday next it will reach the top of the dam and begin to flow over

Below the dam the river bed is perfectly dry—above it the water is 70 feet deep and will be 108 feet before it can begin to find an outlet

The embankment of the railroad was covered to an immense height, and for 520 meters—about 1,600 feet—of its length and is 10 or 12 feet below the level of the dam

MONSTROUS RATTLESNAKES

The San Francisco Alta of September 7th [illegible] this [illegible] snake [illegible]

Woodward has obtained another curiosity for his gardens Samuel Shelton Superintendent of the [illegible] Quicksilver Mines at the head of the Cuyama river Santa Barbara county has sent him an immense rattlesnake It is over seven feet long and measures round the body nine and a quarter inches It had seventeen rattles but in endeavoring to effect the capture of the snake alive from the top of an old tree, one half of them were lost A horse belonging to one of the mill men was bitten by this snake and died from the effects of the poison In revenge Mr Snake was vigorously hunted for until [illegible] in the top of the old tree It was thought a pity to kill so magnificent a specimen and so it was captured alive [illegible] up and is now on the way to Woodward's Gardens where he is to be exhibited

The Santa Rosa Democrat speaks of a recent capture in this line as follows

[illegible] left at this office the rattles of the largest snake on record [illegible] Southard [illegible] Woodward were hunting [illegible] Lake county near Walter Springs [illegible] saw the snake and killed him after a fight [illegible] fifteen minutes The [illegible] was [illegible] by actual measurement Six feet four inches in length [illegible] circumference of body at largest part [illegible] inches [illegible] rattles twenty [illegible] and a button length of rattles five and three quarter inches [illegible] the longest we have ever [illegible]

John McNew of Cornelius harvested 11 acres of oats which averaged 71 bushels per acre

Mr Burgesser of McMinnville Mills, purchased 21,100 bushels of wheat in ten hours, a day or so ago and paid $1 per bushel for it

Mr Wm Cramp of Salem, who was injured by a fall from a scaffold not long since, was out on the streets yesterday He finds himself able to walk around but not to attend to business.

We hear of a new town in Umatilla county named Heppner It is situated on Willow creek, comprising two stores, both of which retail whisky blacksmith shop and school house. Who will start a newspaper there?

On her last trip down the steamboat Success damaged some of her machinery, and she was obliged to put into the Dry Dock, at Salem, for repairs where she is at present It is probable from this accident that there will not be any boat to Salem during the present week

It is stated by those who have had good opportunities of becoming posted in the matter, that the average yield of wheat per acre this season in Linn county will be over forty bushels Fields that have turned out from 45 to 50 bushels per acre were not infrequent, while still larger yields have been reported

From the McMinnville Reporter of September 11th "We learn that Mr Theodore Branson, of Tillamook county has discovered the great prize perpetual motion, and now has his machine in operation Of course he will not expose such an important accomplishment to the gaze of the world and we cannot know what it looks like He will first try it on a boat"

From the McMinnville Reporter of September 11th "Messrs C J Handley and M F Spencer returned last Saturday from an extended tour through the woods and mountains of Nehalem They have finished up their job of surveying, and can now enjoy a little rest The gentlemen are looking finely, and were cordially received by their friends at this place."

The Salem Statesman says that the State Board of Equalization have done nothing of importance as yet The members of the Board are engaged in preparing rules to govern them in their labors and waiting for the arrival of assessor's books, but three of which have as yet arrived Col. Gates was not present at the sitting of the Board yesterday, but came up by last evening's train

The friends of I W Miller, who formerly lived in Salem, will be pained to learn that he has met with an accident at San Gabriel Mission, Cal, which has prevented him from attending to business for nearly two months, while engaged in mining a large rock fell on his legs and lamed him very badly. It was only a miracle, seemingly, that prevented the breaking of his legs

A concert was given by the McGibeny troupe, assisted by the McMinnville Union Sunday School, in the M E Church at McMinnville, on Sunday evening, for the benefit of the Sunday School There was not a very large audience in attendance, but what were there contributed freely The proceeds will go toward procuring papers for the school, and was therefore given for a cause in which all parents especially are interested

The assessment roll of Tillamook county for 1873, gives the following interesting statistics "The number of tax-payers in the county is 179 of whom 47 are over fifty years old, and are taxed on the following property, 14,657 acres of land valued at $88,438, town lots valued at $1,477 merchandise, $23,959, money notes, &c, $23 059 household furniture, $50,144, 188 head of horses, $6,496, 1,497 head of cattle, $20 238 359 head of sheep, $304, 246 head of swine, $492, with an indebtedness of $38 106" It will be borne in mind that only a small portion of the land in this county is taxable, the greater portion being held by preemption or homestead and consequently not taxable

The Albany Register of September 10th, speaking of the Albany and Santiam Canal, says "The construction of this gigantic enterprise is now so far advanced, that the Board of Directors are ready to sell the use of the water power to responsible parties for manufacturing and other purposes, within sixty days from this time The canal will furnish sixteen thousand cubic feet of flowing water per minute equal to eight hundred horse-power So far the company have expended about $19,600 meeting all obligations The success of this enterprise so far carried on as it was during a money pressure that lacked but little of being a panic is unprecedented in Oregon, and speaks in the highest terms of the ability and honesty of the officers and Board of Directors under whose supervision it has been so happily prosecuted

The McMinnville Reporter of Sept 11th says "The wounds received by the young man in the planing mills one week ago yesterday proved fatal, and after a week's terrible torture he died yesterday morning about 5 o'clock On Monday it appeared positive that to save his life the limb must be amputated, and at the request of Dr Augur a dispatch was sent to Portland for Dr Kinney to come up and render his services in the operation Dr Kinney arrived on Monday evening It was decided by the doctors that the painful job should be performed the next morning and accordingly at about 10 o'clock it was done Mortification had commenced the man had been much reduced during his week's torture and Dr Kinney had very little hope that he would survive the shock of amputation though at the time the Doctor left town he expressed an improvement in the sufferer This is a melancholy case The young man was a native of Sweden and had aged parents living in New York city He had promised to return to them this fall and his entreaties were constantly urged that they should not be informed of his misfortune saying that he would go to them as soon as he was able His true name is not known as the name of Fred Smith appears to be the one he had adopted after coming to this country but as Mr [illegible] found the name "Nelson Olson" written in his hand he takes that to be his name Owing to reluctance for his parent hearing of his sad misfortune he would not give their name and hence they are not known After [illegible] the poor fellow seemed to lose all courage and [illegible] settled in the idea that he must die [illegible] persistently urged that it would be better for him Although far from his relatives he was surrounded by the kindest friends who did not want for anything calculated to ease and comfort him

United States Minister Foster has extended an invitation to the Mexican Government to participate in the centennial celebration to be held at Philadelphia July 4th, 1876 President Lerdo Tejada accepted for his Government the invitation, assuring the Minister that Mexico will make great efforts to be worthily represented at the exposition.

THE CALIFORNIA ELECTION

Now that the fight against monopoly and slavery to the railways is ended in our sister State, journals in every direction are casting up the probable result of the coming contest for a United States Senator to succeed Casserly. The latest and most reliable estimate of the strength of the various candidates is furnished by the Sacramento Union of September 8th. We condense the views of the Union. Of the nineteen hold over Senators thirteen were elected by Republicans and six by Democrats. The Union claims seven and possibly eight of the thirteen for Booth with a possibility that of the six Democrats two may be classed in the same way. This would give Booth nine of the hold over Senators. Of the newly elected Senators the Union counts with much certainty on 12, and of the Assemblymen it claims 41. The figures for Booth would then stand: Senators 21, Assemblymen 41—total 62. The Legislature is made up of 120 members, and if the claim of the Union be well founded, Booth will have one vote more than would suffice to elect him. The S. F. Chronicle says: "At the present writing, the election of Booth as Senator seems a foregone conclusion."

There is one fact, however, which will exert a powerful influence in the struggle. In several of the counties where an independent legislative ticket was in the field it was supported with the understanding that the mixed delegation should support that candidate for the Senate which should develope the greatest strength. For instance, in San Francisco there were on the legislative ticket seven Republicans and seven Democrats who were pledged respectively to vote for Booth or for Casserly according to the actual strength of these gentlemen. The Union, in the article from which we have quoted, says on this point:

> There are counties yet to hear from which are likely to give Booth several more and if every man elected who pledged himself to vote for Booth as the only means of securing his own election keeps his pledge there is no doubt that Booth will be the next United States Senator. He has more strength than any other aspirant, and can only be defeated by base and shameful compromises, alike disgraceful to those who make them and the man in whose favor they may be made.
> If the Democrats insist that they must vote for Casserly because he has been a Democrat and because they have been then the victory by the people will be treacherously compromised and result in at least a partial triumph of the railway company. We do not believe this will be done. On the contrary, we count upon [illegible] as a ruling motive of action and so [illegible] we feel confident that the majority of the Senators and Assemblymen selected from the Democracy and elected by the Independent [illegible] the railway's political [illegible] will obey the manifest will of the [illegible] majority of the people and vote for Booth, who is unmistakably their first choice for United States Senator. If this is done we [illegible] then regard the election as a complete victory, if not, no man can regard it as more [illegible] a partial triumph, in which the railway will have gotten the best of the people in the [illegible] of a Senator.

There is little disagreement among our California exchanges on the probabilities of this contest. In almost every [illegible] they accord a victory to Newton Booth.

[illegible] the gas company of Middleton, Ireland, heedless of the remonstrances of its patrons, raised the price of gas twenty-five cents per [illegible] and the people of that little Irish [illegible] commenced a series of very plucky acts. [illegible] they called a rousing indignation meeting, [illegible] condemnatory resolutions and [illegible] the monopoly that if it persisted in its [illegible] course it must abide the consequences. Mistaking the temper of their protest the company declined to accede to the popular [illegible], whereupon every mother's son in Middleton cut off the supply from the meters and commenced the use of oil instead of gas. [illegible] sentiment of the people is pretty well ex[illegible] by an Irish paper when it says "it will [illegible] for the consumer to get along without the Company than for the Company to get [illegible] without the consumers." A sentiment of [illegible] kind makes short work with monopolies.

No more startling instance of the unjust and [illegible] charges of the Central Pacific [illegible] could be found than the following, [illegible] by the Sacramento Union. By telegraph we are informed that the railway lines from New York to Chicago and Milwaukee have put down freights from 53 to 28 cents per hundred pounds, and that the rate is 55 cents from New York to St Louis. We also learn from the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco that the charge on the Central Pacific from that place to Reno is $1 25 per hundred pounds. The distance from Chicago to New York is 960 miles. The distance from San Francisco to Reno is about 200 miles. The rates on our pet and liberal road are fifteen times as high as those on the Chicago and New York lines, about which the people in the East are complaining so bitterly. Such a showing as that needs no comment.

The Northern Pacific Railway Company represented in Washington by Ben Wade and two other gentlemen have attempted to secure the mail contract across the continent. Mr Wade urged a contract for the transportation of the mails from Bismarck to Helena, Montana Territory, a distance of about 800 miles. It is said that the object of the scheme was the diversion of passenger travel from the Union Pacific road. The price of the service was fixed at $15 000 per annum. The Postmaster General looked with disfavor on the proposition from the first. He has now declined to establish the desired service on the ground that there is no necessity for a route 800 miles in length along the northern boundary where are few settlements and little travel.

The San Francisco Chronicle warns the State Convention of danger ahead in this wise: "Ben Holladay, the Railroad King of Oregon, is feeding the Republican party [illegible] the poison which will ultimately prove its death. Senator Mitchell [illegible] tion to the influence of the Oregon and California Railroad and already the same power is visible in the preliminary steps of the Republicans toward the nomination of a candidate for Congress. Republican leaders in Oregon should beware of the [illegible]."

There has recently been [illegible] among some papers in the Treasury Department the original contract between the Marquis de La Fayette and some merchants [illegible] in which the former [illegible] chants his entire fortune [illegible] sum of £1 500 with which [illegible] ment for the Revolutionary army.

Mr Simpson of Benton [illegible] reporter puts it. It can't be Mr Ben Simpson, for he is a resident of Marion and Multnomah.

The trial of Marshal Bazaine will be held at Trianon, and will begin October 6th.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION

PLATFORM ADOPTED.

Senator Hipple-Mitchell Endorsed!

First Day

Special to the Oregonian

ALBANY, Thursday Sept 11 1873

Pursuant to the call issued by the members of the Republican State Central Committee the delegates of the State Convention [illegible] day at [illegible] the Convention assembled at the Court House.

Mr Farrish of Multnomah, Chairman of the State Central Committee called the meeting to order, stating in brief the object for which the Convention had been called. Mr Farrish said the first order of business would be [illegible] election of a temporary Chairman.

Mr Simpson of Benton moved [illegible] Major M L Terry of the same county be elected temporary Chairman.

The motion [illegible] Mr Terry stated [illegible] the Convention [illegible] present. Mr Farrish had already done that [illegible] business which [illegible]

Mr J N Dolph of Multnomah moved that Mr William B Carter be chosen temporary Secretary. The motion prevailed.

Mr A R Burbank of Yamhill moved that the Chair appoint a committee of five on credentials to determine who were entitled to seats in the Convention.

The motion prevailed and the Chair appointed the following persons as such committee on credentials: A W Waters of Linn, Wm M Turner of Jackson, Joseph Engle of Marion, A R Burbank of Yamhill and J N Dolph of Multnomah.

Mr Simpson suggested that the Chairman and the committee on credentials occupy one of the offices in front of the building and that delegates hand in their credentials. That plan would obviate confusion and expedite the action of the committee.

Mr C N Terry of Marion moved that a committee of three be appointed on permanent organization.

Mr Simpson of Benton said he thought the motion made by the gentleman from Marion was a little premature. It would be best to wait until the Committee on Credentials submitted their report and then the Convention would know who were entitled to seats. Any action taken before such report would be in his opinion premature. There being no second to Mr Terry's motion no action was taken.

Mr Simpson suggested that an Assistant Secretary be chosen.

Mr O N Denny of Multnomah moved that Mr J M Shelley of Linn be chosen Assistant Secretary of the Convention. The motion was carried.

On motion of Mr Simpson of Benton the various representatives of the press throughout the State who were present, were invited to take seats within the bar.

Mr W R Dunbar of Marion moved that the Convention take a short recess to allow the Committee on Credentials to make their report. The motion prevailed and the Convention stood adjourned.

AFTER A RECESS

Of half an hour the Committee on Credentials made their appearance and the Convention was called to order by the Chairman.

Mr Turner of Jackson, Chairman of the Committee on Credentials stated that he was ready to report. The report was then handed to the Secretary and read.

From the report it appeared that there were 98 votes in the Convention. The representation from the western counties was full; the counties east of the mountains were principally represented by proxies. Curry and Josephine were the only counties which were unrepresented in the Convention. On motion of Mr Dunbar the report was adopted.

Mr Simpson of Benton, moved that, as Curry and Josephine counties were unrepresented, the Coos county delegation be authorized to cast the vote of that county and that the Jackson delegation cast the vote for Josephine. Carried.

Mr Simpson of Benton also moved that where a vacancy existed in the delegation of any county, those present be authorized to cast the vote of the absentees. The motion prevailed.

Mr Terry of Marion moved that a committee of five persons be appointed by the Chair on permanent organization.

The motion prevailing, the Chair appointed the following persons: Terry, of Marion; Apperson, of Clackamas; Simpson, of Benton and Mulkey of Multnomah.

Mr Dolph, of Multnomah moved that a Committee on Resolutions to consist of one from each county be appointed.

Mr Dunbar of Marion amended the motion so that each delegation from the counties represented be entitled to name one of their number who was to serve on the committee.

Mr Simpson of Marion, strongly objected to that mode of procedure. It would lead to wrangling among the respective delegations and would consume a great deal of unnecessary time. The gentleman's motion was out of the usual course of conventional action and he opposed it.

Mr Dunbar, of Marion said he had simply made the motion to accommodate the Chairman. He thought it would expedite matters rather than retard them. He was not tenacious about the motion, but as he had made it he should insist upon its being put.

The vote was then taken on Mr Dunbar's amendment, and it carried.

Mr Engle, of Marion moved that the original motion now be put.

Mr Burbank thought that it was unnecessary. There appeared to be no feeling in the matter. Certainly no one present could object to the motion made by Mr Dolph that one delegate be appointed by the Chair from each of the counties represented.

Mr Baker of Union moved that the roll be called.

Mr Burbank moved that the calling of the roll be suspended.

Neither motion was seconded.

Mr Dolph insisted that the roll be called. It was the only fair way in which the sentiment of the Convention could be expressed.

No further objection being made to calling the roll, the Secretary proceeded with the following result: yeas 31, nays 61.

Mr Dolph moved that a committee consisting of two persons from each of the Judicial Districts be appointed by the Chair to act as a Committee on Resolutions.

Mr Killin of Multnomah said he was strongly opposed to the gentleman's motion. It was a very novel proceeding and as new as it was unfair. Each county should be entitled to representation on that committee. The only way to do the thing right was to appoint one from each county.

While the question was being debated Mr Dolph withdrew his last motion and moved that one be appointed from each of the counties represented.

The motion was seconded by Mr Baker of Union and the question was put and carried.

The following persons were appointed as Committee on Resolutions:

Dolph of Multnomah, [illegible] of Grant, Baker of Union, [illegible] of Wasco, Waters of Baker, [illegible] of Umatilla, Ballou of Clackamas, Archibald of Washington, Harrison of Yamhill, Nichols of Polk, Carter of Benton, Engle of Marion, Shelley of Linn, Kelly of Lane, Miles of Douglas, Turner of Jackson and Josephine, [illegible] of Coos and Curry, Daniels of Columbia, [illegible] lender of Clatsop and [illegible] of Tillamook.

Mr Denny of Multnomah moved that a committee of five persons be appointed on order of business.

The motion prevailed [illegible] persons were appointed:

Denny of Multnomah, [illegible] of Yamhill, [illegible] of Marion, [illegible] and Turner of Jackson.

Mr Baker of Union moved that [illegible] Districts [illegible] the Convention [illegible] Hon [illegible]

The motion was [illegible] pointed the following [illegible] mittee:

Pease of Linn, [illegible], Garrison of Yamhill, [illegible] and Turner of Jackson.

Mr C N Terry, Chairman [illegible] on Permanent Organization [illegible] following:

President—Major M L Berry of Marion.

Secretary—Wm B Carter of Benton.

Assistant Secretaries—J M Shelley of Linn and Wm Turner of Jackson.

On motion of Mr Dunbar the Convention then adjourned until 7 o'clock P M.

EVENING SESSION.

At the appointed hour the convention assembled, Major Berry in the chair and was called to order.

Mr Burbank moved that the meeting take a recess of half an hour. As yet the committee [illegible] had not completed their work and were [illegible] not ready to report. [illegible]

The Convention was again called to order.

Mr Denny, Chairman of the Committee on Order of Business, submitted the following report:

Your Committee appointed on Order of Business report as follows:

1 The adoption of resolutions expressive of the [illegible] of the County [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] the National Committee [illegible] the State [illegible] Hon [illegible] respectfully submitted.

O N DENNY, Chairman.

Mr Simpson of Benton moved [illegible] adopted. Carried.

[illegible] committee appointed [illegible] Ho [illegible] of the Convention [illegible] Wil [illegible]

[illegible]

Resolved, That we [illegible] the [illegible] Hon. [illegible] that character and [illegible] which [illegible] political and [illegible] credit to the party and State and is eminently fit representative of a moral intelligent and the [illegible] people who fully appreciate the necessity of [illegible] and must be representative men of the party and State.

Burbank moved the adoption of the above resolution. Carried.

The Committee on Platform submitted the following:

Report of the Committee on Resolutions

1 Resolved, That we look with pride and satisfaction upon the prosperous condition of the country as the natural result of the application of the principles controlling the Republican party in the administration of national affairs and that we affirm the principles of the party as [illegible] a [illegible] practical [illegible] essential to the welfare of the country and the maintenance of the rights and liberties of the people.

2 Resolved, That the Chief Executive of the nation has our unqualified confidence in his integrity, ability and enlightened patriotism in the administration of the duties of his high office.

3 Resolved, That we point the discordant and chaotic political elements which oppose the Republican party to-day to the grand advance made by our Government in its political strength, financial credit, commercial importance and material development of the resources of the whole country as the direct natural and inevitable result of this enlightened policy and principles of the Republican party.

4 Resolved, That we denounce the recent act of Congress known as the Back Pay bill and the voting for an unnecessary increased pay for services already rendered.

5 Resolved, That we denounce all Credit Mobilier transactions whatever their form and we heartily approve of the action of the late Congress in exposing and punishing corruption.

6 Resolved, That we favor retrenchment and reform and the economy in the expenditure of the public money in the state and National administration and the reduction of taxation as rapidly as consistent with good government and maintenance of the public credit.

7 Resolved, That we cordially welcome to our shores the oppressed of all countries and remembering that our adopted fellow citizens have always proved loyal to the flag of the Republic we demand for them the fullest protection of the laws and favor increased facilities for naturalization. But we condemn the Coolie trade and all forms of involuntary servitude and affirm that the safety and prosperity of free institutions demand more stringent laws to prevent such traffic.

8 Resolved, That the interests of this state and the demands of its commercial relations with the other states of the Union both present and prospectively will warrant a liberal expenditure on the part of the National Government in the improvement of our harbors and river channels and it is the true policy of our people that they should be so represented in Congress as shall most effectively accomplish this result.

9 Resolved, That true economy in the management of the public lands of the United States as well as the settlement of our vast domain and the development of its resources demand liberal grants of public lands in the construction of railroads and other public works with such limitations as will secure the ultimate sale to actual settlers.

10 Resolved, That we are in favor of Congressional grants of public lands to aid in the construction of a railroad from Portland, Oregon, to some point of junction with the Central and Union Pacific Railroads in Salt Lake valley, and of a railroad from the Rogue River valley to a junction with the Central Pacific.

11 Resolved, That the interests of commerce demand the construction of a breakwater at Port Orford in this State for that purpose.

12 Resolved, That the protection of the commerce of the Columbia river demands the placing of a steam revenue cutter with all necessary appliances at the mouth of said river.

13 Resolved, That the producing commercial and industrial interests of the country shall have the best and cheapest of transportation possible and while capital invested in such means of transit should have a reasonable remuneration, those interests should be fully protected and the facilities for transportation should be adjusted so far as possible to the wants of every part of the state with no unjust discrimination to any section, person or class, and as capital and labor are inseparably connected and mutually dependent, the resources of the state will be best developed and the best interests of all classes promoted by mutual concession and accommodations between labor and capital and between the producer and carrier.

14 Resolved, That we are opposed to the setting apart of the Wallowa Valley for an Indian Reservation and the candidate of this Convention is hereby pledged to use his influence to secure to white settlers the lands in said valley that the Modoc murderers of citizens of Lost river and Tule Lake in November last shall at once be delivered to the civil authorities of this state that they may be dealt with according to law; that we are in favor of a humane peace policy toward peaceable Indians but that complete protection should at all times be given to the settlers on our frontiers against the depredations of hostile and refractory tribes.

Mr Simpson moved the adoption of the platform. Carried.

Mr. Baker, of Union, introduced the following resolution:

Resolved, That whatever may have been the misfortunes, faults or shortcomings of the Hon. J. H. Mitchell, U. S. Senator of this State, in his early private life, we neither apologize, pass judgment upon nor justify him, but express our unqualified belief that by his many years of consistent, upright and honorable conduct in this State he has outlived any imputations cast upon him, and that to-day not only the Republican party, but a large majority of the people of this State, have entire confidence in his integrity, ability and patriotism and that he will faithfully and ably represent them in the United States Senate.

Mr Burbank moved to lay the resolution on the table. The roll was then called with the following result: Yeas 31, nays [illegible]

Mr Mulkey of Multnomah moved that the resolution be adopted.

Pending this motion [illegible] in which Mr [illegible] Mr Dolph [illegible]

[illegible]

Mr Dawson [illegible]

A. M.

[illegible] and long debate [illegible] the roll which was then [illegible] with the following result: Yeas [illegible]

Mr Baker of Union [illegible] forth [illegible]

[illegible]

Mr Dawson [illegible]

Mr Baker [illegible]

[illegible]

Mr Burbank [illegible] the [illegible] resolution.

Mr Mulkey moved the previous question and called for the yeas and nays.

The Chair declared that the motion to [illegible] journ was in order. The yeas and nays were then called. Yeas 2, nays 72. So the motion was lost.

Mr Mulkey insisted upon the previous question and called for the yeas and nays.

Mr Apperson of Clackamas desired the Chair to clearly state what the question before the Convention was.

The question was then stated and the vote taken as to whether the main question shall be put. The yeas and nays were called with the following result: Yeas [illegible], nays [illegible], so [illegible]

Mr Nichols [illegible] the roll was [illegible]

[illegible]

Mr Mulkey [illegible] Mr Baker [illegible] now put.

The yeas and nays were called [illegible]

The vote on the resolution endorsing Senator Mitchell stood: Yeas 67 nays 27. So the motion carried.

FRIDAY MORNING SEPT 12 1873

CITY.

FALSE RUMORS —It is well said that a lie will travel round the world while truth goes to breakfast This is highly exemplified in the many rumors that have gone out through the country in regard to the smallpox in this city A Portland lady went to Milwaukie on Thursday of this week on a visit to some friends The people of that village were actually afraid to meet her as all sorts of rumors had reached that place concerning the great prevalence of smallpox here and they supposed all the people in Portland carried the disease around with them The little child of one of our citizens had a light attack of varioloid from which it has now recovered When that report reached Milwaukie it had grown to such proportions that it was told that three of the man's family had died of smallpox and nine of the rest were expected to live when in fact none but the child referred to had been sick with the disease But the worst story we have heard yet comes by way of McMinnville and through the Yamhill Reporter of the 11th inst It is that there are five hundred cases of smallpox in Portland Although the editor of the paper named hardly thinks there are so many as that he is satisfied there is a great deal of it there He advises people of the country to stay away from our city for a time or at least to make short stays and straight roads to and from business

Now while it is true, as the McMinnville paper says the dailies of Portland have no smallpox reporter it is not true that we make any effort to conceal the fact of the existence of the disease in our city But being on the spot, we think we have about as good an opportunity to tell the extent of the disease as have the editors of the papers up the valley or at other distant points We believe there have been during the past summer eight deaths from smallpox in Portland, and no more Of these, six were whites and the other two Chinese. In all, there have not been more than 40 persons attacked, and many of these were light cases of varioloid which scarcely confined the patients to their beds for a week At no time have there been more than 12 or 15 persons sick with the disease at the same time These we believe are about as near the facts as can be obtained and though the number of cases may be a few more, we are pretty sure as to the number of deaths But be that as it may, we know that such reports as that above referred to do our city great damage, and do no one else any good We should not have devoted so much space to this subject, but the remarks of our contemporary seemed to demand that something definite be said As we have before stated, our citizens seem to have but little fear of the disease, and business is now going on with more activity in our city than we have witnessed for many months While all possible precaution is earnestly advised we most sincerely deprecate the publication of such stories as that of the Reporter.

AT THE ASYLUM —While on the east side yesterday we paid a visit to the asylum, and through the courtesy of Mr Kenworthy were shown through the wards At present there are 188 patients, fifty of whom are females receiving attention Very few are suffering from sickness. The cleanly manner in which every thing is kept and the unlimited amount of exercise offered, are calculated to give the patients a good, healthy appearance The inmates as a general thing, conduct themselves in a quiet manner, and little trouble is experienced on that account. We observed that quite a number were well advanced in years, and a great many have been in the institution since its opening The females who are least afflicted spend their time in sewing and doing other light work The men in the same condition are employed in the gardens adjoining and in other places about the premises. When we called, the men had just come in from the park and were like the women, waiting for their supper, which is light in its details, though they get all they desire at the noon meal Everything presents a comfortable aspect and none need complain for the want of anything Mr Kenworthy and all connected with the Asylum, are very kind in their treatment of the poor creatures who are so unfortunate as to lose their reason.

NEW ROUTE TO CLATSOP —Charley Dexter, the host of the Sea Side House, who is enjoying a short spell of city life, informs us that he has taken soundings of the Lewis and Clarke rivers and found the average depth to be three fathoms for a distance of five miles from the mouth The stream has an average width of two hundred yards and he thinks it is navigable for our largest river steamers. At a point some five miles from the mouth a road leading along a ridge to Clatsop is proposed and Mr Dexter is now making arrangements to that end. A steamboat of light draught to be built expressly to run from Astoria, via the Lewis and Clarke rivers to the point where the proposed road touches on the river, is talked of This route is shorter than the one at present [illegible]. Better time can be made and a much pleasanter trip by water and on the stage will be experienced by the traveler over the proposed route Of course it is not expected that much can be done this fall and winter, though, should the matter assume a promising shape, the enterprise will be a foregone conclusion Visitors to Clatsop will be glad to know that a better means of transportation is likely to be offered. An improvement is needed

FROM CLATSOP —We learn that the season at the above favorite summer resort has been attended with satisfactory results An average of seventy persons were accommodated at the Sea Side House daily, while Grimes and Cloutries received all they had room for The Sea Side House is to be enlarged so as to form a square The dining room will be situated in the center around which will be an open yard, in which fruits, plants and shrubbery will create a pleasing and attractive addition to the comfortable surroundings More room for families will be made, and other necessities attended to Astorians are now paying Clatsop a visit, and the weather is pleasanter than one would suppose. A great many Portlanders have spent their summer vacation at Astoria, Unity and Oysterville but very few remain at these places now

SHOULD BE ATTENDED TO —Some time ago suggestions were made by various Oregon journals that a suitable monument should be erected to the memory of John Fleming, the pioneer printer of this State whose remains now lie in the churchyard at Oregon City Earnest action should at once be taken by the typographical fraternity in this matter We are sure that the members of the craft in this city will cheerfully co-operate with their fellow-craftsmen throughout the State whenever the movement shall be properly inaugurated We hope to see the matter attended to at an early day

SURETYSHIP —The wisdom and foresight of Solomon in the proverb "My son if thou art surety for thy friend, thou art snared with the words of thy mouth thou art taken with the words of thy mouth," has been fully illustrated in this city in the past few days in the case of a man whose earnings for fifteen years of industry and economy are taken to pay the debts of one for whom he became responsible in an hour when there were no thoughts of danger But now the creditors of the friend come and at one fell swoop thousands of dollars are gone to satisfy their demands

CAPSIZED —Yesterday afternoon about half past 5 o'clock the yacht [illegible] during a brisk encounter with a northerly breeze just off the [illegible] capsized and the Captain took [illegible] bath He was [illegible] however as to support himself [illegible] until the [illegible] came alongside to his relief [illegible] done [illegible]

RELICS OF EARLY OREGON —We are informed that the type and other material used in the publication of the first Oregon newspaper are buried in the ruins of a building at Oregon City which fell in during the high water of 1861 2 Steps should be at once taken by the Historical Society to recover these interesting relics of the early times of our State

PORTRAIT PAINTING —We are informed that Prof Baumgras having completed his sketches of our mountain and river scenery has accepted orders for portraits from some of our well known citizens An opportunity like the present to secure an artistic and faithful portrait, by one who stands so high in his profession, seldom presents itself

MORE MONEY —The snug sum of $170,000 in gold coin arrived in this city through Wells Fargo & Co's Express besides a considerable amount by private hands This addition to our capital is a very desirable one when the demand for the purposes of making improvements and purchasing grain is taken into consideration

WHEAT —Seven hundred and forty tons of wheat were received here last Wednesday by rail about 100 tons by boats and several wagon loads besides from farms adjacent to the city Nearly all the available means of transportation are now brought into requisition to bring wheat into market

ORGANIZING —The organizing officer of the People's Protective Alliance Mr Volks has received requests from Oswego and St Helens for the organization of primaries He will proceed to Oswego next Saturday for that purpose and in a few days will visit St Helens

RECOVERED —Mr Taylor of East Portland who was stricken with the smallpox is again upon the streets His friends in this vicinity and Vancouver will be pleased to hear of his complete recovery although he is badly marked for life

OPERATIONS IN THE BURNT DISTRICT.

Yesterday we took a stroll through the burnt district noting the progress of rebuilding

On the east side of First street between Taylor and Salmon a full force of workmen are employed on the brick block being erected by Messrs Field and Vaughn

On the southwest corner of First and [illegible] the plasterers are now at work on the brick structure belonging to Dr Glenn and [illegible] Wakefield which will soon be ready for occupation

On the west side of Front street the lots cornering on Taylor excavations for foundations are under way and in the course of a few weeks we may expect to see substantial structures in course of erection

Those enterprising machinists the Smith Bros, have resumed business in their new quarters

The building to be occupied by McGinn & Hill bakers, is receiving the finishing touches.

Keller, the butcher has a very neat frame structure on the southwest corner of First and Madison streets, which is about ready for occupation

Dr Weatherford has repaired that portion of his residence so badly scorched, and no traces are left to indicate its narrow escape

The only new sidewalk we noticed in our rambles is on the south side of Madison between First and Second

Brown's ice-house is receiving the finishing touches, and we presume Charley will be prepared to serve our citizens with the cooling chunks of comfort at an early day

The brick walls of Messrs Moffet and Strowbridge's, Dr Weatherford's and A Meier's buildings, on Front street are being repaired and will be ready for tenancy in a week or two

In fact those who witnessed the scene of desolation that overspread that part of our city less than six weeks ago are surprised at the rapidity with which the waste is being restored Although some of the buildings now in course of erection are temporary and rather frail affairs the general character of the improvements is more substantial than that of those which were destroyed by the fire In addition to the improvements above noted, there are many others of more or less importance

PEOPLE'S PROTECTIVE ALLIANCE.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS OF EAST PORTLAND PRIMARY NUMBER ONE.

The People's Protective Alliance met at the Council Chamber, East Portland, on Wednesday evening last, with Mr Kennedy in the Chair.

Journal of last meeting read and adopted

After the reading of the pledge the following persons were elected and came forward and signed the roll John Hughes, Claude Thayer John Farqua Steven Berni and E H Cheney

Mr Volks, Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements appointed to take steps for giving a grand ball for the benefit of the movement, reported that all necessary arrangements had been made, and that the ball would take place on Friday evening Sept 19th at the Odd Fellows' Hall, in the city of East Portland

On motion, the election of officers for the ensuing term was held according to the constitution and by-laws of the Association, and resulted as follows F R Neale President Jacob Anderson, Vice President R D McManus, 2d Vice President, A A Newell Recording Secretary, W S Gordon, Treasurer, A Sylvester, Sergeant-at-Arms

On the reading of the proceedings etc by the Secretary it was stated that the total number of persons connected with the Alliance in this State amounts to 420 and that several other Primaries will be organized in different towns, which will materially increase its present membership

After the transaction of business was finished the meeting was addressed by Messrs McManus, Moore and Kennedy who in a few brief but telling remarks entertained the audience for a time after which a motion to adjourn prevailed

OUT-DOOR SPORTS.

Cricket and base ball to-morrow

A boat race is on the tapis. We shall give full particulars to-morrow

The flying dust on the base line road yesterday afternoon indicated that something of note was to transpire not far from the city of East Portland A ride of two miles brought us to the race track where about one hundred persons had assembled to witness the opening day's races After considerable delay the horses for the running race, half mile dash were brought out and given a little run preparatory to the start. Shortly after three Kute Lindsey's chestnut-sorrel Vallandigham, Jack Minor's bay, Henry Welch and Wm Acker's sorrel Fiddling Simon were started The horses going badly were called back and were again allowed to go this time the three getting off well 'Val' came in ahead followed closely by Welch, Simon bringing up the rear considerably behind the others Time of the winner fifty seconds Little money changed hands only eighty dollars being in the pools Vallandigham was the favorite from the start Following this brush came the trotting match Chas Perkins entering Rose and Lew Goddard Dolly The distance was one mile best two in three Lindsey brought in Rose well ahead in the first two heats winning the match Time 3.17 and 3.08½ Dolly was so far behind that her time was not taken In fact the trotting race was not a good one owing to the wide difference between the contesting animals To-day there will be a running match in which Honest Ance American Boy Mack and Vallandigham will be entered also a trot between horses not yet named

CUSTER'S BATTLE WITH THE INDIANS

The New York Tribune of Sept 8th contains a letter from its correspondent with the Yellowstone expedition giving a full account of General Custer's fight with Indians at Tongue The murder of Dr Honsinger and Balearn is thus described

The day was one of intense heat The doctor's horse had had no water since morning There seemed to be little danger in going to the river He took the chances of risking his life to give his horse a drink of water The Indians won the wager Balearn was in company with Dr Honsinger and going to the river for the same reason One of our Indian scouts—who could not speak English—met the two as they were descending into the valley The quick eye of the scout had seen Indians He stopped the doctor and said Indians! Indians "No no said the doctor they are cavalry, cavalry The scout took hold of their bridle-reins and tried to turn their horses They refused to be convinced and the scout left them to their fate It must have been soon after that that the Indians were upon them The nature of the wound showed that both men had been shot in the saddle They had turned after seeing the Indians and tried to climb the bluffs The Indians had fired and brought them both down The doctor, having the better horse, had nearly reached the top of the bluffs when a ball overtook him Strange to say neither of the party was scalped The Indians took Balearn's money amounting to about $100 and the doctor's watch The bodies were not mutilated. Dr Honsinger had served through the war and had previously accompanied Gen Fremont on some of his expeditions He had been a long time connected with the Seventh Cavalry and was greatly esteemed by the officers and men for his personal and professional qualities He resided in Adrian Michigan Balearn was also a favorite in the cavalry He has a wife and child in Memphis Tennessee.

TO THE PUBLIC

We are now getting on the way a new and fresh stock of fine furniture which will be superior in quality and newer in design than the one destroyed by the fire and which we will offer for sale on advantageous terms Meanwhile we are well prepared to supply the present demand from our temporary location corner of Fifth and Taylor streets near the U S Custom House Respectfully

WASHINGTON COUNTY LETTER

HILLSBORO Sept 11 1873

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The Board of Equalization for Washington county adjourned yesterday after having gone through the assessment roll The assessment is fixed at 10½ mills—the school tax of three mills levied by the State causing the increase in the levy The roll is now in the hands of the Clerk and he wearily sighs as he contemplates [illegible] the Assessor's figures

The farmers are about through threshing A few days more on the lowlands and the reaping for 1873 will be closed out And what a harvest it has been Everything is literally groaning beneath the heavy weight of the products of the farm

The fruit crop has proven equally as good as the grain fields On every hand is found a superabundance of every variety so that the poorest people have but to gather and store for themselves

The present living prices offered for wheat has cleared the [illegible] our farmers brow and [illegible] of the thrifty housewife heart to leap for joy as she contemplates the new dress [illegible] to wear to the Washington County Fair which gives promise to exceed anything in the State We are assured from every quarter that the fastest horses finest cattle best blooded sheep goats and swine the [illegible] the best vegetables fruits jellies jams and preserves the finest articles of household fabrics and the sweetest girls and babies in the whole State will put in an appearance In addition to these attractions we are to have [illegible] Wilson's Circus (with all the side shows and the McGinley troupe not forgetting the usual attendance of brass bands etc The managers have spared no expense in their endeavors to make the Fair a success The only fee charged will go to defray the incidental expenses

Never in the history of our county has the yield in every department been so plentiful and those who wish to see Washington county in her best attire will do well to visit the Fair on the 30th of September and the 1st and 2d of October The hotels at Hillsboro and Cornelius are being renovated for that occasion, so that superior accommodations can be had.

MY VIOLET

A violet lay in the grass
A tear in its golden eyes
And it said Alas an I alas
The night is ... [illegible]
Another day is nigh
And I am alone ... [illegible]
There is none to care if I ...
There is none to be glad that I live
The lovers they pass me by
And never a glance they give
I could love so well so well
If one would but tarry ... [illegible]
A tale that was told ... only —
My lover might go his ways
But through all the nights and the days
I should never again be lonely

Then sudden there fell ... [illegible]
Into that violet's heart
It lifted its face with a start
It arose ... trembled ... [illegible]
At last ... [illegible]
Down drooped its head ... [illegible]

Is God in Heaven ... the light
Of the ... stars and the sun
His —or the Evil One's ...
Is he cruel or mad, or right

The Pansy that grew by the wall
Its heart was heavy with bliss
In the night it had heard a call
It listened it felt a kiss
Then a loving Wind did fall
On its breast and filled it with gladness
The morning brought ... madness
To light,—and the ... fled
But the eyes that burned in his head
Shut love through ... all
For the Pansy that bloomed by the wall
Shone sweet in every place,—
In the sky the earth and the air—
And that lover saw never the face
Of my dead violet there

Hush! Hush! Let no sorrow be spoken!
Though it perish no pity shall flout it
Better to die heart broken
Of love than to live without it

REMARKABLE FLIGHT—SIXTY FOUR MILES IN THIRTY MINUTES

The New York Graphic says

We last week expressed the opinion when "Ariel" was again flown he would make the distance to Rivercliff, sixty four miles in half an hour The prediction met with little favor but, incredible as such a performance seems it was actually verified in the bird's flight on Saturday last

A gentleman who is to form a part of the Daily Graphic transatlantic balloon staff, was at the Domestic Sewing Machine Company's establishment at 3 o'clock and took the birds in charge.

A crowd assembled to witness the starting of the birds. At 3 10 the first bird was tossed up She was a female home-bred and appeared to be very much confused with the houses and the noise and movement of the streets She flew about quite rapidly at first and then began to fly in circles She flew in this way until lost sight of. The second bird was a male home-bred, He was freed five minutes after the other one. He lingered upon the hand of the starter and seemed rather averse to flying When tossed up, he also flew wildly about and gradually began to circle, and finally was lost sight of, as in the former case At 3 30 the third bird was tossed up He was one of the imported birds—Gold Bug No 6 His performance on feeling his wings was most remarkable. He rose in a narrow spiral ("just like a corkscrew," said the starter) to an immense height, so as to be nearly lost to sight. Then, catching sight of some distant familiar object in the Sound, he darted off ... with great velocity At 3 30 the bold and beautiful Ariel was taken from the cage. He comprehended the situation at ..., and on being tossed up, he unhesitatingly took his course across Fourteenth street and the Opera House, and was seen on the ... home. All the birds had red ribbons on ... Telegrams were immediately sent to James Bond, the farmer at Rivercliff (Mr. Hubbell being at his business establishment in Philadelphia), announcing the dispatch of the birds, and requesting information ... upon their arrival Accordingly, ... five o'clock, the following telegram was received

"... August 16 1873.—Ariel and No. 6 ... at four. The other two birds came shortly afterwards.

JAMES BOND

It will thus be seen that Ariel performed the ... of sixty-four miles in the remarkable ... of thirty minutes No 6 is not inferior ..., indeed, when we consider the unfavorable ... by his first scrutiny of the ..., it appears very much as if Ariel would have to look sharply after his laurels

BEAUTY IN THE SURF —A correspondent from Long Branch writes that the fair damsel who tries to combine becomingness with use in her bathing suit, generally ends by looking not only very uncomfortable but very ridiculous For instance, a fair female at one of the lower hotels recently made her appearance on the beach at the bathing hour attired in a costume which struck amazement to the minds of beholders. A very brief tunic of alpaca trimmed with pale blue, was belted around her slender waist Her lower limbs were clad to the knee in Knickerbocker trowsers of white alpaca and below these appeared dainty striped stockings of blue and white while her feet were encased in white shoes ornamented with blue rosettes. A coquettish little hat trimmed with blue was perched on one side of her head and from beneath it fell heavy braids of pale golden hair With rapid step and unshrinking confidence she braves the perils of the angry ... ### Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The activity in our market heretofore noted continues with but little abatement though present necessities of buyers are more nearly supplied and they are scarcely urging matters with such ardor as a few days ago Several large purchases are noticed on terms private but which we have good reason to believe were made at at least $2 per cental delivered here in sacks The delivery however must be immediate or for this month as exporters feel unwilling to operate on long time contracts or to purchase lots for more from immediate means of transportation As will be seen by our telegrams prices in San Francisco continue to advance Buyers will find it a very difficult matter to secure cargoes at any reduction for some time to come even though prices at Liverpool should remain at their present standard or recede Should we witness a temporary scarcity of tonnage on the account of the failure of expected vessels to arrive it will likely be attended by a sort of dead lock in the market, holders demanding present rates and exporters refusing, not being under any special pressure The receipts here yesterday amounted to over 800 tons. Buyers claim that private dispatches from San Francisco to-day denote a weakening tendency in that market

BEEF CATTLE—The demand is rather better and prices for future delivery are taking a firmer tone. We quote choice lots at 4@4½ cents per pound on foot.

MUTTON—The market is dull and with a fair supply the inquiry is lax at $2@3 per head for mutton sheep

DRESSED HOGS—We quote at 6@7½ cents per pound and light receipts

FLOUR—As might have been expected on account of the advance in wheat the price of flour has risen to $6 50 for best brands with a corresponding increase in rates for lower grades, The unusual demand upon all the available means of inland transportation to move the large purchases of wheat has somewhat shortened receipts.

OATS—The demand for the local trade is fair but the principal attention in grain circles being turned to wheat, oats are less sought after than usual at this season, though prices are firm and all lots of choice offering are freely taken at 50@53c per bushel

BARLEY—The new crop is coming to hand very slowly and quotations are reported dull at $1 40 per hundreds pounds. The demand for local consumption is brisk but limited in extent.

FEED—We quote bran offering at the mill at $15 per ton Our market for chopped is quotable $... per ton shorts $18@...

HAY—With some call for local consumption and the usual supply our market is tolerably active. Prices for good baled timothy are firm at $... per ton loose, $10@11

POTATOES—The supply is well kept up by wagons and boats and we quote common to choice at 32@45c per bushel

ONIONS—Receipts light and quotable firm at 2@2½ cents per pound

APPLES—This product, both in point of quantity and quality is largely in excess of last year's crop and the most forward varieties are in good supply at prices that would then have been considered more than cheap We quote best in neat boxes at ... cents per box Common varieties from wagons sell at ... ℔

BACON—We note no movement of consequence in the market, the supply on hand is still considerable but is being gradually worked off at the old prices. The receipts are very light

LARD—Fresh or pure Oregon lard in tins is readily sold in the market at 13@... ℔. in kegs is quotable at 10@11½c

BUTTER—There is no change since our last report. Prices for best qualities favor the seller while inferior lots are offered without takers We quote common at ... choice ...

CHEESE—The market is well supplied with a choice article from our State dairies selling at ... 17c ℔ ...

EGGS—There is no very lively demand and quotations are weak at ... ℔ dozen from first hands

CHICKENS—The trade is fairly supplied at $... per dozen for spring and $3 50 for grown with chances for an advance on choice lots of the latter

HIDES—The quotations to-day are ... for green salted and ... for dry culls ... Damaged lots must suffer a reduction of ... per cent

WOOL—Our market is quiet as but little of this staple is offering, A fair demand exists however at ... cents ℔ for choice quality common quotable at ... cents

Shipping Intelligence

The Oriflamme is announced to sail hence for San Francisco on to morrow, Friday evening at six o'clock.

The Wetterhorn is still receiving her cargo—which is about completed—at the ... wharf

The ship Privateer was receiving grain at her wharf until noon to-day when she was towed to the opposite bank, where she will receive an addition of 100 tons which will about complete her cargo
